Grants

The Getty Foundation supports the fields in which the Getty is active through grants to individuals and institutions throughout the world for projects that strengthen the understanding and preservation of the visual arts. In addition, the Getty Research Institute, Getty Conservation Institute, and J. Paul Getty Museum provide support for visiting scholars at the Getty Center and Getty Villa through various programs. All grants awarded by the Getty are administered by the Grants Administration unit housed within the Getty Foundation to ensure compliance with IRS regulations and with Getty policies and procedures. For more information about grants offered by the Getty, please see www.getty.edu/grants.
