

Getty DEI Listening Forums and Learning Sessions

Getty's partners at JONES will be facilitating several Getty Listening Forums and Learning Sessions.

The Listening Forums are designed to give staff opportunities to learn more about the impact of systemic racism and join in a heartfelt discussion of the issues and actions sparked by the murder of George Floyd, Breonna Taylor, Ahmaud Arbery, Tony McDade, and other Black people killed by police. These forums will allow you and other staff to share thoughts, feelings and experiences and broaden your understanding of the issues by listening to each other.

In the past two months, the JONES team has engaged over 20,000 people in similar sessions, adding to their decades of experience in working with organizations across the country.

Although the purpose and structure of each Listening Forum is the same, some will be offered for specific groups, while others will be open to all staff. The sessions are designed for staff to participate in those groups with which they identify. You are welcome to attend more than one session.

Please see below for the list of the sessions, dates, times and links to register. When you register, you will be asked to indicate your preferred choice of date/time (if needed) and will receive an email once your attendance is confirmed. Registration for each group of sessions will close a few days prior to the last available date. Once registration is confirmed, further information and Zoom links will be shared.

All forums and learning sessions will take place on Zoom and will not be recorded.
