Getty COVID-19 Vaccine Verification and Tests

---

Update June 15, 2021

All employees, interns, scholars, contractors, docents and volunteers, working at the Center, Villa or Annex, are asked to provide verification of being fully vaccinated. Acceptable vaccine verification documents or images include CDC vaccination card, a clear photo of the CDC vaccination card, or an electronic health pass. Whichever form you use must show your full name, date(s) and type of vaccine received and be clear and legible.

Individuals who are not fully vaccinated or choose not to provide proof of the vaccine must continue to get weekly COVID-19 tests, available on site through July 30 and continue to wear masks at all times, except while actively eating or drinking.

Getty has contracted with Taskforce Labs to help obtain these verifications, through July 30, 2021 (the same partners who have been providing on site COVID-19 testing since September 2020). After July 30, Human Resources will collect the verifications and details regarding the process will be published at a later time.

You may stop into the locations below, during the times noted on the schedule, to provide proof of vaccination or receive your COVID-19 test. Please note that pre-scheduling is not required and we ask for your patience if you encounter a line.

Vaccine verifications will be conducted at the same location as COVID-19 testing.

- Getty Center: Private Dining Room
- Getty Villa: meeting rooms VN113 and VN114
- Annex: in the Security “isolation tent”

Employees who have registered for a COVID-19 test at a Getty location may use the same QR code for purposes of vaccine verification. If you have not had a COVID-test before, or you lose your QR code, you will register online through Task Force labs at: <https://testing.taskforcelab.com/register/getty>

You will show the QR code to the nurse, who will then scan your Getty ID badge along with your chose proof of vaccination. They will then affix a unique small sticker to the back of your Getty ID badge.

You only have to register with Taskforce lab once, where you will be asked for your name, address, phone number, email address (to which they can send the QR code), whether you’re employed by Getty or one of our contractors or are a docent or volunteer, and the Getty site at which you work.

If you have to replace your Getty ID badge, you may provide the same QR code, along with your vaccination card, to the nurse again and obtain a replacement sticker. Note that stickers cannot be removed and placed on your new badge.

Designated Human Resources personnel will have access to data regarding vaccine verifications.

COVID-19 TESTING

Individuals who are not fully vaccinated or choose not to provide proof of the vaccine must continue to get weekly COVID-19 tests, through July 30, 2021. You do not need to have an appointment to receive a test, but you must be registered. We ask your patience if there are others ahead of you waiting to see a nurse.
