

Year Up Los Angeles Interns

Fall 2020

Lianne Gabriel is a developing professional in the IT Track. She wanted to take a leap and face the challenges in learning new skills that are totally out of her comfort zone. Lianne has a passion for traveling and feeding her never-ending curiosity about anything and everything that sparks a fuse in her mind. In the spirit of making the most out of this limited intersection of space and time, Lianne joined Year Up as a catalyst for change in her life. She is looking forward to meeting and learning with new people that will nourish her growth and refine her "why".

Getty Applications and Project Management Intern; Supervisor: Elizabeth Smith

Jesus Herrera Rizo is an eager, hungry, motivated student who is currently in the IT track. Some of his interests and hobbies include graphic design, video editing, drawing, animation and he loves LEGO® building. Jesus joined Year Up to help him get a foot in the door and get the experience needed to prepare him for the corporate world. During his internship he is looking forward to building a network and learning from an experienced group of individuals.

Software Architecture and UX Intern; Supervisor: Kristen Carter

Dane Parker is a young IT professional interested in technology and the workings of computers. He joined Year Up as an opportunity to better himself, giving him the ability to overcome the challenges life is sure to throw his way. In hopes of getting better at this game we call life, he looks forward to meeting new people and seeing different perspectives that could give him an idea of how he can better himself and the company he works for.

Network Services Intern; Supervisor: Shane Greene
